

If the police stop you at a protest:

Ask if you're being detained or arrested.

If they say no, you can:

- walk away
- not answer questions
- refuse to show them your ID
- refuse to let them search you or your property

You can record the police if you do not get in their way.

If the police say you're detained or arrested:

- Ask Why?
- Say I want to speak to a lawyer. The police must help you call a free lawyer.
- Do not answer questions.
- Ask for an interpreter if you need one.

Do not resist or struggle.

To learn more, visit:

stepstojustice.ca/protests