GETTING LEGAL HELP
2023-2024

A DIRECTORY OF

Community
Legal Clinics in Ontario

If you speak French, in many cases you have the right to government services and legal proceedings in French, including hearings before French-speaking decision-makers. If you have a legal problem, you can ask a lawyer or a community legal clinic about your French language rights.

Si vous parlez français, il existe de nombreuses situations où vous avez droit à des services gouvernementaux et à des procédures juridiques en français. Ainsi, vous pouvez avoir droit à ce qu'une audience à laquelle vous êtes partie soit tenue devant un décideur qui parle français. Si vous avez un problème juridique, vous pouvez demander à un avocat ou à un intervenant d'une clinique juridique communautaire de vous informer des droits linguistiques liés au fait de parler français.

Community legal clinics

Community legal clinics provide information, advice, and representation on various legal issues, including income assistance, housing, refugee and immigration law, employment law, human rights, workers' compensation, consumer law, and the Canada Pension Plan. Some legal clinics do not handle all of these issues, but staff may be able to refer you to someone who can help.

Community legal clinics are staffed by lawyers, community legal workers, and sometimes law students. Each legal clinic is run by a volunteer board of directors with members from the community. All help is private and confidential and provided free of charge.

To qualify for community legal clinic services:

- your legal issue must be one the clinic handles,
- you must live in the area the clinic serves, and
- your income and assets cannot be above a certain level.

To find out if you qualify, contact your local legal clinic. Most legal clinics provide brief advice, or “summary advice”, without asking about your financial situation. Some legal clinics also offer workshops, information sessions, and other community development activities.

Specialty community legal clinics

Ontario also has a number of specialty community legal clinics. Specialty clinics serve a particular community or focus on a specific area of law. Most specialty clinics are not limited to serving a particular geographic area.

How to find a community legal clinic

In this directory you will find contact information for community legal clinics in Ontario. To find the legal clinic that serves your area, you can phone Legal Aid Ontario (LAO) at one of the numbers listed on page 3. You can also go to the LAO website at legalaid.on.ca.

Other legal help

Legal Aid Ontario (LAO)

LAO provides legal help for people with low incomes, including:

- A toll-free call centre that gives general legal information and advice, as well as information about other social service providers, in over 200 languages
- Help from courthouse lawyers (called duty counsel) for people who are in court without a lawyer
- Certificates (vouchers to pay for a lawyer to represent you) for people who need a lawyer for some criminal, family, and immigration and refugee law problems
- Legal consultation for victims of domestic violence

To get help from LAO, your legal problem must be one that LAO covers, and you must be financially eligible.

For more information visit legalaid.on.ca or call:

Toll-free: 1-800-668-8258

TTY: 711

Law Society Referral Service

The Law Society Referral Service is an online service that gives you the name of a lawyer in your area who can give you a free consultation for up to 30 minutes. You can ask for a lawyer who speaks your language, or a lawyer who accepts Legal Aid certificates.

You can also call them on their crisis line if you are not able to use the online service, for example if you are in custody, in a shelter, or in a remote community without access to the internet. This line is available from Monday to Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Visit findlegalhelp.ca or call:

Toll-free Crisis Line: 1-855-947-5255
